Courtroom Testimony Training

for Investigators and Forensic Professionals

Combine the inherent stress of public speaking with the adversarial environment of the courtroom, and it becomes clear why many dread testifying. This class is specifically designed to elevate presentation skills and build lasting confidence for forensic scientists, crime scene investigators, and law enforcement officers.

Through this unique and interactive course, you will master court preparation strategies, public speaking techniques, effective visual aids, and non-verbal communication. This class will also explore the mindset of the jury, defense tactics, emotional control, and the importance of avoiding jargon.

Don't spend the rest of your career worrying about court. Take the next step, embrace your role as an expert witness, and learn to communicate with confidence and clarity.
